

Bhupen Hazarika Memorial Program

Date: 8th September, 2026

Venue: Digital Seminar Hall, B.H.B. College

A memorial program was organised on the occasion of the centenary birth anniversary of Dr. Bhupen Hazarika on 8th September at B.H.B. College. The program began with the lighting of the ceremonial lamp before Dr Hazarika's portrait and the offering of flower petals as a commemorative gesture. Thereafter, the gathering paid tribute to the legend by singing his famous song "Manuhe Manuhor Baabe". Dr Nayan Jyoti Das delivered the inaugural address, focusing on Dr Hazarika's life, philosophy and contribution to Assamese society. Following this, Mr Utpal Das, the guest of the event, enlivened the environment with his beautiful renditions of Bhupendra Sangeet. Mr Prabodh Kalita, the Head of the Department of Economics, presented an elaborate lecture on the life and vision of Dr Bhupen Hazarika, highlighting the multifaceted nature of Bhupendra Sangeet through its engagement with patriotism, humanism, romanticism and poverty. Members of the "Shabdam Group", a literary association from Sarupeta, were also present during the occasion and collectively recited the poem "Eti Gaan Xesh Hol" by Dr Amar Jyoti Choudhury, written in memory of Dr Bhupen Hazarika. Several faculty members and students of the college presented melodious renditions of numerous Bhupendra Sangeet in honour of the legendary singer and composer. The program served to preserve the memory of Dr Hazarika in the young minds of the students and sought to highlight his indelible contribution to Assamese music and literature.
